

Educate Me’s Blended Learning Program

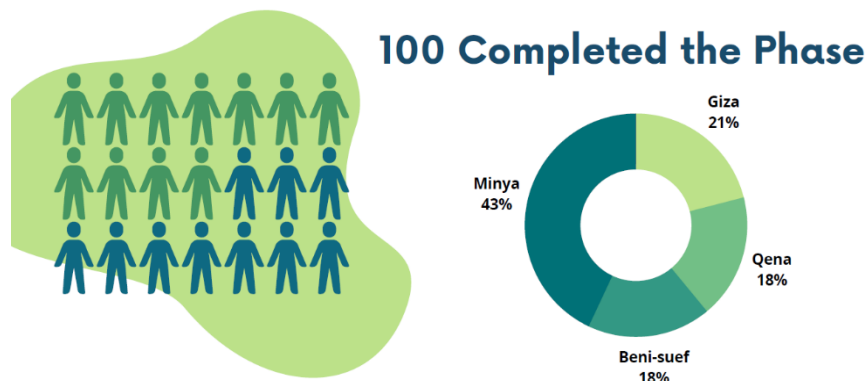

Edita partners with Educate Me to sponsor a blended learning program benefitting over 5,000 program participants

Cairo, October 2022

We partnered with Educate Me to sponsor their one-year blended learning program, offered to public school educators and principals. Through this collaboration, we aim to benefit over 5,000 individuals across the program’s footprint.

In 2022, 100 teachers were selected to receive the course, which focuses on arming educators with essential skills that help them manage on-site and virtual learning tools to build active, collaborative, and constructive learning environments. The program includes two-level trainings and a digital illiteracy team training, as well as coaching and follow-up.

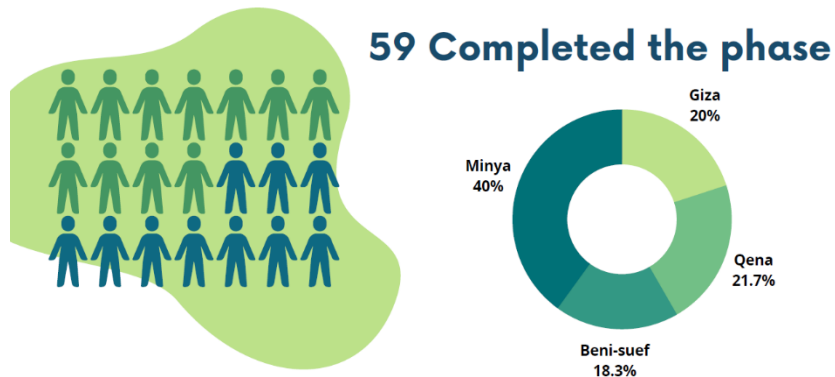

Phase 1: Build teachers’ capacities around the essential skills to apply blended learning and be able to build an active, collaborative and constructive learning environment.

Knowledge Enhancement

Phase 2: Build cadres for supporting the blended learning process through the dissemination of knowledge and the exchange of experiences.
